

Stewart Sokol & Gray, LLC members selected as Oregon "Super Lawyers" for 3 consecutive years.

Stewart Sokol & Gray, LLC members John Spencer Stewart, Jan D. Sokol and Arnold L. Gray have been named 2008 Oregon "Super Lawyers" by their peers for three consecutive years. John Spencer Stewart and Arnold L. Gray have been inducted into the Litigation Counsel of America's Trial Lawyer Honorary Society.

Oregon Super Lawyers is published in November. Attorneys selected for this honor are nominated by their peers and independent research by Law & Politics. According to the annual Super Lawyers publication, these attorneys are outstanding Oregon lawyers, representing a wide range of practice areas, firm sizes, and geographic locations. Only the top five percent of the lawyers in the state are named Super Lawyers.

Litigation Counsel of America Trial Lawyer Honorary Society is an invitation-only group comprised of less than one-half of one percent of exceptional American lawyers from across a spectrum of practice areas. Taking into account the individual's success in and out of the courtroom, the LCA association recognizes deserving, experienced, and highly qualified lawyers.

"These recognitions validate our firm's highest level of legal service provided to our clients, and underscores the importance of the work we do on their behalf."

John Spencer Stewart is one of the founders of the firm, and a current Member. His practice emphasizes commercial litigation, and construction industry and surety matters. His reputation is best reflected in the concept Principle/Purpose/Passion: principal integrity and single-minded focus with the emotional commitment to excellence in client services.

Jan D. Sokol is one of the founders and the Managing Member of the firm. His practice emphasizes the representation of prime contractors, subcontractors, real property managers, small emerging corporations, sureties and fidelity insurers. His practice includes advising and organizing small businesses, as well as the preparation of construction claims. He also has an extensive practice representing creditors in bankruptcy courts throughout the United States. Jan handles complex corporate, commercial, construction and real property litigation, arbitrations and mediations.

"There are so many outstanding lawyers in the state of Oregon. We're honored to be considered among them."

Arnold L. Gray is one of the founders of the firm and a current member. His practice emphasizes construction and design industry matters, commercial law and commercial litigation. He represents prime contractors, subcontractors, suppliers, design professionals and owners in the construction and design law field. He also handles negligence claims regarding appraisal professionals and others. Arne, an experienced trial lawyer, regularly handles complex multimillion dollar cases.
